4734. MYRTLE JANE HOOPS, daughter of John Henry and Tracy Belle Susan (McGuire) Caldwell Hoops, was born 7 Oct 1897 in Pounding Mill, VA. She married 29 Jun 1918 in Bristol, TN, RAYMOND ANDREW TRAYER, son of Andrew Hemphill and Ella Eudora (Trayer) Trayer, born 31 Aug 1899 in Staunton, VA and died 16 Nov 1974 in West Palm Beach, FL.

When she was three years old, Myrtle's mother, baby sister and a half-sister were drowned at the doorstep of their mountain cabin in a flash flood. In the confusion of evacuating the large family from the house, little Myrtle was forgotten. Finally her father remembered her but the way back to the house was blocked by the flood. A tree was cut down across the water and crossing this, John Henry carried Myrtle to safety.

On a summer afternoon in 1917, Myrtle was taking a stroll with friends in the hamlet of Pounding Mill when she met the thin young man who was to become her husband. She used to call him, "my R.A.T." In Sep 1917 she moved to Bluefield, VA to live with her aunt and go to high school. Myrtle and Ray corresponded. The story is told that once Ray rode a train to Bluefield to see her. He had purchased train tickets for two to Bluefield, WV where there was a movie house. Unfortunately, Myrtle's straitlaced aunt would not let her go to the "shameful movies" so Ray, humiliated, went alone.

When Spring came, Myrtle returned to Pounding Mill. She and Ray hired a friend to drive them to Bristol, TN. They rode all night on narrow dirt roads and arrived in Bristol at 6:00 a.m. on the 29 Jun 1918. At 9:00 a.m. they were married in the home of Rev. Satteryard. Their friend, Claude Thomas, and the night clerk at the Bristol Hotel were witnesses.

Ray had an inquisitive mind and a keen sense of caricature and humor. He was poor but ambitious and learned early the virtue of hard work. When he was 16, he left his home in Staunton, VA and went to live with an uncle in Pounding Mill. He took a job as a laborer in a limestone quarry.

SEVENTH GENERATION

Ray narrowly escaped death in an accidental fall of 165 feet at the rock quarry. Although badly injured, he recovered sufficiently to lead a normal life. He became a master automobile mechanic and always wore a necktie even on the greasiest jobs.

Darlington married 2) on 16 Oct 1925, MARY ABIGAIL HAZELETTE MILLER, daughter of Thomas and Hester Hazelette (Rae) Miller born 1 Apr 1898.

According to WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA (1960-1961), Darlington was a student at the U. of WI in 1914-5 and studied law in the office of G. Herbert Jenkins in Norristown, PA from 1917-1921. He was admitted to the bar in PA in 1921 and practiced in Norristown from 1921-7 and in Reading, PA thereafter. He was the Assistant City Solicitor in Reading from 1928-32, City Solicitor from 1936-40, Director of Eastern Co-ops Inc. from 1947-51. An active member of the Socialist Party since 1914, he was a member of the House of Representatives for PA 1930-6 and in 1946; National Chairman from 1946-57; candidate for Vice President of the U. S. in 1944, candidate for President of the U. S. in 1952 and 1956 for the Socialist Party. He was a member of the executive committee of the state council for Fair Employment Practices Commission from 1948-58; active in the YMCA, BSA, member of the American, PA and Berks Co. Bar Associations and a member of the Society of the Friends.

An interesting article in the Philadelphia ENQUIRER dated 19 Jul 1973, dateline Reading, PA has this to say:

"This city on the Schuylkill, with its pretzel factory, railroads and compact business district, doesn't look at all like a hotbed of racialism. But that's precisely what it was. Indeed, it was the Berkeley of a bygone era.

"Reading was, for many years, to American Socialism what Hershey is to chocolate candy. Reading's Socialists, drawing their strength from local trade unions, had more political power than either the Democrats or the Republicans.

"On three occasions between 1927 and 1943, Reading's voters elected a Socialist mayor. They also elected Socialist city councilmen, school board members and state legislators.

"The city's Socialists, in that same era, had considerable national influence. Five national conventions nominated Reading men for President or Vice President. And for good reason, local membership at its zenith, amounted to no less than one-sixth of the total American Socialist strength.

"Socialists no longer win elections in Reading. They don't, in fact, even run candidates these days. Organized labor has long switched its allegiance to the Democrats, and so have most of the surviving Socialists.

"But not all of them. Socialism still lives in Reading, among a few diehards who retain their party membership and their unsullied ideology. Although Reading is no longer the Socialists' town, the old-time Socialists have not moved away, and they continue as active members of the community.

"One of them is Darlington Hoopes, who, at age 76, is considered the elder statesman of American Socialism. He is, at the same time, regarded as the elder statesman of Reading. The walls of his law office are lined with plaques from various civic groups that have named him 'Man of the Year' at one time or another.

"A short, slightly built man with a firm handshake and self-deprecating sense of humor, Hoopes could easily pass for a small-town bank president. His smooth tan, bronzed during frequent golf and tennis matches, sets off his white hair.

"Hoopes insists that he is as committed to Socialism as ever. 'If there's a future for the United States, there has to be a future for Socialism,' he says. 'Watergate is a beautiful example of the immorality of the present system.'

"Hoopes relinquished the national party leadership five years ago, but still serves as honorary chairman. But that is not to say that he agrees with everything the party does. Last December, Hoopes bitterly opposed the party's name change from Socialist Party of America to Social Democratic Party. And he can't understand why the younger Socialists who forced that change want to participate in Democratic Party affairs.

" 'They aren't practicing true Socialism', he says, 'It's impossible to collaborate with a party that supports the existing system and call yourself a Socialist.'

"Hoopes, who was national chairman of the party for 20 years, was Norman Thomas' vice presidential running mate in 1944. Hoopes himself was the presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, but he campaigned with little fanfare on a shoestring budget. In Kenosha, WI in 1952, he addressed an audience of one. He also experienced little red-baiting harassment in his two presidential campaigns. 'Perhaps people just didn't think enough of me to throw things at me,' he laughs.

"Nonetheless, Hoopes managed to have a good time running for President. 'I enjoyed meeting comrades who I had heard of for years and never met personally. Fellowship is a very important factor in the Socialist movement.'

SEVENTH GENERATION

"Important enough for Hoopes to move to Reading. He was state secretary of the Socialist Party, practicing law in Norristown, when Reading elected its first Socialist mayor in 1927. Hoopes says he couldn't resist moving to the green hills of Berks Co. and putting his Socialism to good use.

"Some of the Reading Socialists branded Hoopes a carpetbagger. Others said he was an opportunist. But, within a few days, he won their confidence and they admitted him to their inner circle.

"Hoopes was later elected to three terms in the Legislature, a period he is particularly proud of. Apparently, he convinced other legislators that he was something more than a Marxist crackpot. Although most of his bills were killed in committee, he introduced and secured passage of the state's child labor law in 1933.

"Meanwhile, Hoopes was making his mark locally in Reading's political conscience, founding the local branches of the American Civil Liberties Union and the NAACP. He still participates in those and similar organizations, and, a few years ago, was even president of the Reading Bar Assn.

"His philosophy hasn't really changed. A Quaker pacifist, he was an early critic of the Vietnam War, and now condemns the bombing of Cambodia. But Hoopes, a soft-spoken, mild-mannered sort, is just as opposed to the confrontation politics of anti-war activists....."

Wilmer was apprenticed to the drugstore of his Uncle Edmund Preston, Jr. while he was attending the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy from which school he graduated in 1895. He decided, however, to move back to Harford Co., MD where his parents had moved when he was a year old. There he helped to develop his father's herd of Jersey cattle and as a hobby, experimented in growing rare plants.

In 1947, Wilmer had his right leg amputated above the knee and he turned over the management of the farm to his nephew, Joseph. He later sold it in 1951 along with 130 acres to Charles W. Poole and went to live with his daughter where he died the following year.

Herbert graduated with a D.V.M. from the U. of PA. He purchased a farm, "Waverly", about four miles east of Forest Hill, MD near Gibson. He practiced for 19 years before poor health forced him to discontinue his veterinary work and devote his attention solely to farming.

Together with his brother, Wilmer, Dr. Hoopes developed one of the finest herds of Jersey cattle in the state. He preferred, however, to concentrate on records for production rather than to show his cattle for judging.

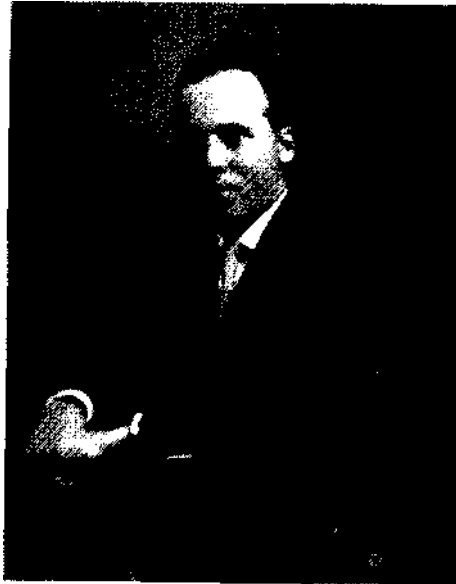

At the time of his death, Herbert was president of the MD Jersey Breeders

Marysville, OH. He married on 12 Oct 1879, LUCY ELIZABETH WOOD, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Shouse) Wood, born 5 Sep 1856 in Moorfield, OH and died 9 Aug 1947 in Magnetic Springs, OH.

THE HISTORY OF UNION COUNTY, OHIO (1915, B. F. Bowen & Co., Indianapolis) tells us: "The late William T. Hoopes was for more than 30 years one of the leading members of the legal profession in Union Co., OH. He came to Marysville in the spring of 1881 and was engaged in the active practice of law until his death in the fall of 1914. As a lawyer he was easily among the prominent members of the Union County bar, and during his long career in this county was connected with many of the most important cases in the local courts. His honesty and integrity were never questioned and his recognized probity made him honored and respected by all who knew him. He was one of the leaders of the Republican party in this section of the state, and was nominated on his party's ticket for Congress, a fact which speaks well for his worth as a public citizen in the eyes of his fellow men...."

"William T. Hoopes was educated in the public schools of Morgan Co., OH, and then spent two years in the National Normal University at Lebanon, where he was a student in the law department. After leaving the university he was admitted to the bar and began the active practice of his profession in North Lewisburg, OH, where he remained for three years. In the spring of 1881 he came to Marysville and practiced by himself until 1901, when the firm of Hoopes, Robinson & Hoopes was formed. This firm was for more than a decade one of the leading legal firms of the county and had its full share of the legal business which came before the local courts...."

"William T. Hoopes was reared in the Quaker faith, although in later life he was not an active member of this church. Fraternally, he was a member of the Free and Accepted Masons, the Knights of Pythias and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Marysville... He was a public speaker of no mean ability and during his political days campaigned with some of the most brilliant men of Ohio, among them being Gov. William Harding, William Gibson, Joseph Cooper, and many others of the state's prominent men...."

After Arthur's death, Jessie made her home with her daughter, Bess Hoopes Coleman.

Arthur had worked in bridge construction, but when he went to live in LaRue near his son, Harry, in retirement, he drove the horse that pulled the small cars loaded with clay for the tile factory in LaRue.

Jessie Janet came to America from Scotland with her parents as a young teenager. Her father was a stone mason who came to Marysville, OH via Canada. Family tradition has it that her mother was the last of Rob Roy MacGregor's descendants born on the land given to him by the King of England.

According to Arthur's granddaughter, it was the Campbells who destroyed the MacGregors and made it illegal, for a time, to be a MacGregor so Rob Roy had to change his name.

Both Amanda and William are buried at North Ridge Cemetery in Niagara Co., NY.

In 1890, William Ehrhart began operating a general store in York Haven, PA where he was also postmaster. However, before long he became interested in the project of William T. Love, who planned a huge transportation and hydroelectric canal in Niagara Co., NY with a model town to be located just below the locks. Organized in 1893, by 1895 Love's company had acquired capital of $1,000,000 and options on 12,000 acres of land. At that time William and Alice Ehrhart contracted for the general store of the model town and came to the new site to build what was visualized as the first of many business establishments. William also became postmaster. A few other buildings were erected and a number of miles of the canal were completed but at this point the project failed. The Ehrharts found themselves owning a general store more or less out in a field surrounded by empty cellar holes and partially laid out streets. It was evident that the store had to be moved to the main road and some additional enterprise undertaken. So the store was moved and a grocery route added to the business. William began peddling groceries and other supplies throughout the countryside. The fact that he spoke both high and low German as well as English was a distinct advantage in Niagara Co. as it had a large German population. After William's death, his widow continued to run the store until she was taken to the hospital two weeks before her death at age 85. A son and daughter still live in Model City.

"LIZZIE" (CLARK-BUCY) HOOPES

LUTHER LAWRENCE HOOPES

After their marriage, Luther and Lizzie moved to Kewanee, IL where Luther worked in a boiler shop and foundry where he soon began traveling extensively, demonstrating a casting machine.

In Naperville, IL, he met a man whose name was Alien Hoopes (No. 8043). They did not realize they were cousins but thought it a coincidence they had the same surname. (Luther's younger son received his middle name as a tribute to Alien Hoopes.) In time, Alien persuaded Luther to become a railway mail clerk like himself. Luther entered this service and advanced to chief clerk, a position he held until his retirement in 1949.

SEVENTH GENERATION

Soon after he entered the railway mail service, he and Lizzie moved back to Astoria so Lizzie could be near her aging foster parents. Luther served on the Rock Island to St. Louis postal run. This job involved considerable overtime and resultant long periods off. This "spare" time enabled him to develop a flower garden and nursery business. The showy, large peonies bloomed well in the area for Decoration Day and these flowers, as well as gladiolas, were shipped to the Chicago market. As the business expanded, shrubs and evergreens replaced the labor-intensive cut-flower business.

Luther and Lizzie were both pillars of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Astoria where Luther was long a member of the board and was the Building Chairman who replaced the church when it was lost by fire. Since his business did not depend much on local sales, Luther was elected president of the Astoria School Board when the school was in dire straits and was largely instrumental in raising school taxes and keeping the accredited status, although many of the retired local people were against it. Appropriately, the school and local businesses were closed for his funeral when he died of a heart ailment on 2 May 1954.

Lizzie, whose many hours cooking fund-raising meals had contributed much to the new church, was buried from it after her death on 9 Dec 1969. Lizzie loved her home and keeping it "just so." Her hobby was piecing quilts. Both she and Luther are buried in Astoria Cemetery.

She married on 15 Apr 1906 at her home in Vermont, IRA JACKSON BROWN, son of Simon Lewis and Susan Jane (Stoops) Brown, born 18 Jun 1878 in Vermont, IL and died there on 16 Feb 1933. Fannie was a member of the Christian Church. Ira received an elementary education at Union Center School. At an early age he became interested in the problems of rural communities and he chose farming as his life's work.

Fannie and Ira Brown lived their entire lives within a four mile radius of the IL countryside. They grew up in the same neighborhood, attended the same school and the same neighborhood church. It is doubtful they ever got out of the State except, perhaps, for a visit to Keokuk, IA just across the Mississippi River.

SEVENTH GENERATION

The farm on which they lived was the one that had belonged to Ira's parents and adjoined the one belonging to Fannie's parents. It was located about a mile from the main highway and to reach it one had to go through a stand of timber belonging to someone else, open a gate, cross Otter Creek and mount a steep hill. In muddy weather, it was impossible to get to the house by car and at no time could you see the highway in any direction.

The farm was about a half-mile from the country school at Union Center, that is, it was if you went across the hills, over the fences and across the foot log across the creek. When the creeks were out of their banks, it was a good two miles to school. Ira, Fannie and their children received their education at this same country school at which the enrollment at one time dwindled to two children. (Ira and Fannie's daughter calculates that the family spent nearly a half-century there).

Fannie loved and had a phenomenal memory for poetry and was often asked to "recite" at various programs in the community. At the age of 85, she could still remember long poems she had committed to memory long before she was married.

Ira was a quiet man about six feet tall. He loved the out-of-doors and, in addition to his farming chores, he often worked in the timber making railroad ties.

Fannie never knew anything but hard work. When she was little, she had to help her own mother who was in "frail health", later she reared her own family, milked cows and raised a huge garden. After Ira's death, Fannie had to depend on the sale of eggs, cream and berries from her own huge berry patches to earn a living for her family.

WILLIAM PERRY MONTGOMERY, son of Andrew Luckey and Mary Elizabeth (Beall) Montgomery, born on his parents' seventh wedding anniversary, 28 Oct 1865 in a log cabin close to the banks of Salt Creek where his parents were homesteading. At that time, NE was just a territory. William died on 12 Nov 1955 in Beatrice, NE.

In 1869, William's father sold his homestead and bought a quarter section of land about two miles north of the present town of Pickrell, NE for which he paid, $1,000.00. On this he had a mortgage of $250.00 at 10% which he paid off in two years. His granddaughter, Beulah Engberg, still has the original deed to that farm.

THE HOOPES FAMILY RECORD

William Perry Montgomery grew to manhood on that farm and helped his father with the farming until he was 21 years of age. He later worked three years for the Union Pacific Railroad as a telegrapher. When he was 28, he decided to go to medical college in Omaha and there earned his M. D. in the Spring of 1898.

William always told his children that he had picked out their mother when she was only 14 years of age but waited until she was 17 to ask her for a date. They married on Junia's 19th birthday.

William was a country doctor first at Pickrell, NE and later at Hickman, NE. He delivered all four of his own children.

In the fall of 1903, William went to Chicago where he took a short course at Northwestern U. in the specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. In 1908, he left general practice and opened an office in Beatrice, NE where he practiced this new specialty.

In 1915, he decided to move to a location north of Pickrell to an 80 acre farm given to him by his father. Here, he and his wife built a home where he farmed and practiced medicine on the side.

In 1923, he bought a drug store in Hickman, NE and moved his family there, much against his wife's wishes. In 1930, they sold the drug store and moved to Beatrice where they built another home where they lived for the rest of their lives.

When asked to give some biographical information on his parents, "Sam" Hoopes made this contribution:

"John Vernon Watson Hoopes was raised at Pomona, KS. He became a member of the Methodist Church at an early age and attended a Methodist College in Baldwin, KS.

"In early adult life, he farmed 800 acres of wheat land with mules, horses and a helpful wife in Barton Co., KS. He ceased farming in 1921 and moved to Portland, OR. He returned to Pomona in 1923 and later moved to Kansas City, MO in 1928 where he was employed by the gas company. In 1936, he went to work for American Sash & Door Co. as a lumber grader. He never retired. Death claimed him in 1952 as the result of a car accident several months earlier.

"He loved his relatives, especially the children. He had a nickname for all of them which usually 'stuck'. For instance, he had one sister known as 'Biscuits', another known as 'Slats', and a brother known as 'Catfish', all emanating from incidents known to the family.

"He would not tolerate any lawbreaking or defiant behavior in anyone. He would not listen to or repeat an off-color joke or story.....

"He was a very private person and enjoyed taking the Kansas City STAR, Sunday edition, to the park and while sitting on the grass, leaning against a tree, devouring it from cover to cover with no distractions.

"He was a life-long Republican...."

About his mother, Grace (Morgan) Hoopes, Sam says: "She loved to travel and was a wonderful mother and cook. She also had sense enough to use a razor strop, switch or paddle and was no 'bleeding heart' with incorrigible kids raised in a permissive, stupid atmosphere." (It is your reporter's opinion that this biographical sketch tells as much about "Sam" as it does about Grace.)

He became its president in 1928 and served in that capacity until Jan 1946, when he was elected chairman of the board.

PENNSYLVANIA, A HISTORY by George P. Donehoo has this to say about the firm of Hoopes Bros, and Thomas Nursery Co. (We presume this was written before 1919.)

"The famous House of Hoopes is an exception to the American tradition of changing business conditions and restlessness. It was in 1683 that the ancestor of the American family of Hoopes came from England and made his home not far from the seat of William Penn's activities. He loved the rolling hills covered by forest growth that characterized this grant to Penn, of a tract of land in America north of Maryland, bounded on the east by Delaware, on the west limited as Maryland, northward as far as plantable.' The great-great grandfather of the present head of the House of Hoopes took up land, cleared it, and tilled it and the vast fields of intensely cultivated nursery stock today are part of three Hoopes farms, the rugged ancestor brought into cultivation before the end of the seventeenth century. The great Norway spruce yet flourishing, planted in 1851 by the mother of Abner Hoopes, is probably the finest specimen of that tree to be found in all America. An early nursery enterprise was abandoned about that time, and Pierce Hoopes, father of Josiah and Abner Hoopes, bought the best of the Lan-dreth stock for the home place. The great nursery of today had its actual beginnings in 1853 through the importation of all the important fruit and ornamental trees of the nineteenth century. They came from the great house of James Backus & Son of York, England. With the larger shipments came small plants in pots of 'Abies Normanniana, Abies nobilis, Abies cephalonica, picea orientalis and picea obovata'. Carefully planted they probably inspired Josiah Hoopes with the idea of planting a 'pinetum' for the careful and comparative testing of evergreens. Josiah Hoopes was nurseryman and botanist alike both by training and inclination. He collected plants and trees, and, in the little greenhouse, built about 1852, he experimented in propagation. He observed, thought, wrote and discussed trees with other persons interested in them and became an authority on conifers, as evidenced by his BOOK ON EVERGREENS published in 1868, and a standard authority today. Josiah Hoopes, the elder brother, died in 1904 after a long life of single-minded devotion to the great industry of which he was an able exemplar. Abner, the younger brother, worked to upbuild the nursery business side by side with Josiah. The firm was Hoopes & Brother until 1866, when George B. Thomas became an office partner. The style became Hoopes Bro. & Thomas, until in 1904, the Thomas interest was purchased. Charles E. Cattell and Wilmer W. Hoopes were taken in and in 1907 the corporation of today was organized as Hoopes Bros. & Thomas Co. Nevertheless the business ideals never have changed. They follow one pivotal rule—to grow the best plants and trees in the best way, on honor, and to deal with buyers to hold their trade for the reason that they could not do as well elsewhere. If there is a new idea of recent years it is that of building up a force of able and honorable salesmen, who offer the Hoopes stock to buyers as the best. These men are men of ability, character and standing, rigidly selected, proud of their work and stock they sell, and of the customers who welcome them year after year. Therefore it can be said that the Hoopes standards of fair dealing have been extended widely with the Hoopes quality stock through these men who are the trusted representatives of a house that has been doing business for seventy-three years. The office today stands close to the site of the original nursery office of the early fifties. Today the office is the working home of a great business. A Philadelphia office was opened in 1901 in the Stephen Girard Building to facilitate the management of an ever-growing business, and as a convenience for salesmen in the States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, as well as parts of New York and New England. At the nurseries, fruit trees are grafted from stocks that have been tested by time. A scion orchard is maintained for this purpose, and the constant effort to maintain quality and to insure the best, has made the enviable reputation of the House of Hoopes, old in years, but never younger in point of progressive endeavor. For the House of Hoopes leaves nothing to be desired in its stock, its facilities and its methods. The great packing houses cover more than an acre and one-half of ground, providing ideal conditions for packing entirely under shelter. The packing boxes are built on the place, and every modern facility is available for the safe and rapid handling and shipment of trees and plants. More than the administrative features, the broad fields of trees, shrubs, and plants speak most effectively for the business of doing one thing well for more than sixty years. The fields first tilled by the Hoopes plow in the seventeenth century are richly fertile today, and this is sufficient evidence of the care of the land. To view the rolling fields, each item of the stock growing just where it will grow best, the value of skill and experience becomes apparent. Every year millions of fruit trees are grown, destined to gladden the homes of thousands of planters and to bring actual wealth into the world through the processes of growth and marketing. Great blocks of shade trees are seen, destined to gladden the busy throngs of city streets and to make life easier for them. They stand wide apart, are carefully trained and often transplanted. The evergreens are seen in great nursery blocks of trained, transplanted, symmetrical specimens grown on honor and sold on honor. As an instance of the Hoopes skill it is enough to say that twenty years ago six perfectly colored specimens of Colorado blue spruce were selected out of thousands of seedlings, and carefully reared. From these thousands of 'picea pungens glauca var Hoopesii' are grown today and are admittedly superior to the best imports from Holland. Here, thanks to the perspicacity and the insistence of Josiah Hoopes the high merits of the native hemlock as an ornamental came to be recognized. Certain 'retinosporas' have been tried here, and found not wanting. Other best evergreens have been selected and recommended. There has been a new message of beauty in the spring gardens since the Hoopes Japanese double-flowering cherries became abundant. The barberries, the snowballs, the hydrangeas, the lilacs, and all the other good shrubs so hardy in America are grown here by men whose training and skill of years is everywhere revealed.

"About 1898, Mr. Farrell, one of the bright workers trained under the eye of Hoopes Bros., was set to work to hybridize between 'Rosa Wichuraiana,' the fine trailing variety and several tea and hybrid tea roses. There resulted a cross which gave 'Climbing American Beauty,' a rose of extraordinary value and rare beauty. 'Christine Wright,' was another cross produced. It is a lovely pink climber of almost equal quality. 'Purity,' another robust climber, is described best by its name. It is pure white and of exquisite form. In association with two others it makes a trio utterly different from any other existing roses."

At the time of his death, Wilmer W. Hoopes was the oldest alumnus of the 5631. ELIZABETH ADELAIDE HOOPES, daughter of Warner and Priscilla (Gifford) Hoopes, was born 9 Sep 1847 in Council Bluffs, IA and died 19 Nov 1889 in Mesa, AZ. She married 15 Jun 1864 in Richmond, UT, CHARLES HOPKINS ALLEN, son of Andrew Lee and Clarina (Knapp) Alien, born 15 Oct 1830 in Burton Co., NY and died 18 Feb 1922 in Mesa, AZ.

Elizabeth Adelaide was one of the first babies born in a covered wagon during the time her LDS parents were being driven from their home in IL. Her father was a shoemaker.

While living near St. Joseph, MO, her father worked at burning charcoal and was very prosperous. Her mother's health was poor. Her father was advised to join the LDS at Florence, NE and prepare to immigrate to UT but he did not heed that advice. Soon after a non-Mormon family was burned in their home and the Mormons were accused of committing the deed. After much controversy, Warner Hoopes and a brother Lincoln, were taken to prison by the sheriff for protection from the mob. They remained there for ten months before being proved innocent and being released. Meanwhile the family was reduced to a state of poverty and all of Warner's accumulated wealth was spent for lawyer's fees. His wife made willow baskets for the children to sell which made them a living.

Elizabeth Adelaide Hoopes (Alien)

While crossing the plains, Elizabeth Adelaide was given the responsibility of caring for the children, particularly the baby. After their arrival in Salt Lake City in 1858, the family moved to Bountiful and then on to Cache Valley where she helped her father herd sheep and cattle and helped with the general outdoor work.

When she was 17 years old, Elizabeth Adelaide met Charles Hopkins Alien. He was courting her friend, Belinda Blair. One day Belinda was a guest for lunch and arrived wearing a very fancy bonnet. She admitted she had made arrangements for Charles to see her home. Elizabeth playfully hid Belinda's bonnet when she saw Charles coming. When it fell from its hiding place behind the door, Elizabeth snatched it up and ran with it but Charles and his whip were too fast for her. He later told her that he fell in love with her the day he wrapped his whip around her. Despite the fact that Charles was twice her age, Elizabeth Adelaide seemed to share his feelings and consented to be his wife.

Elizabeth Adelaide was very friendly and her doors were always open to welcome friends and relatives. She promoted the spirit of home entertainment for keeping children under the family roof long before it was recommended throughout the Church. She was a very capable woman, too, and could do anything from knitting stockings to butchering pigs. She was handy with the spinning wheel and the loom and was very active in church activities.

Elizabeth Adelaide and her husband answered the call to go to AZ. They entered what is now Mesa, AZ on 13 Nov 1882. While pioneering in that area, they endured many hardships including a smallpox epidemic. When the last of her 14 children was born, Elizabeth Adelaide died. Her last request was that her tithing be paid on some butter she sold so she might be squared with her tithing.

The following year after Elizabeth Adelaide's death, her widower married 2) on 20 Oct 1890 in Logan, Annie Eliza Jones, daughter of James Alien and Minerva Ann (Lawson) Jones, born 10 Nov 1869 in New Hope, TN. They were the parents of nine children, five boys and four girls.

Her first husband was Thomas Bartholomew Cardon to whom she was married on 24 Jun 1886.

At the age of 10, Daniel traveled with his family to UT with the Harlow Red-field Co. Both he and his father were ill with fever and rheumatism during the entire trip and had to ride in the wagon most of the time. After short stays in Sessions Settlement (now Bountiful, UT) and Richmond, UT, they moved to Weston, ID.

At the age of 19, Dan Lewis worked on the railroad until he could buy a team and wagon with which to haul freight into MT. A congenial, strong, handsome man, he was a favorite at all the neighborhood dances and at the New Year's Dance in 1872, he and Catherine Clarke quietly left the dance and were married by Judge Levi Gifford. Catherine's mother was very upset about this civil ceremony; she insisted that they be married by a bishop, so four days later they were married by Bishop John Maughan. In March of the following year they were married in the Endowment House in Salt Lake City, UT.

Dan Lewis and Catherine homesteaded on Weston Creek. There he helped to build an irrigation reservoir and canal. Dan Lewis served for many years as director of this project. He also served as a school trustee, Sunday School superintendent, a leader in other church work, in Democratic politics and even served as Sheriff for a two year term. During this term, Dan Lewis and several men were traveling from Weston to Malad when a flock of ducks flew over. Although duck hunting was out of season, the men bet Dan Lewis that he couldn't shoot one on the wing. Dan told them if they wouldn't mention it when they got back to town, he'd shoot one. He aimed and shot and one of the birds fell. When the group got to town, the men started bragging that no-one could escape Sheriff Hoopes—he could shoot a bird in flight.

On 25 Jul 1898, tragedy struck the Hoopes household when their four-year old daughter, Edna, was burned to death while playing with firecrackers. Catherine never recovered from this experience. The following 10 Mar she gave birth to a still-born baby and died three weeks later.

With the help of his older children, Dan Lewis continued to operate his large farm and dairy and with his son-in-law, Hyrum Rose, bought a flock of sheep. But such extensive farm work deprived his family of many social and educational advantages, so Dan Lewis sold his Weston property in Jul 1905 and bought a small farm and residence at Logan, UT.

Dan Lewis soon met and married MRS. ELLA HINCKLEY CARDON, mother of five children. The marriage took place in Logan Temple on 11 Jan 1906. She and Dan had two children together.

In Jan 1919, Dan Lewis was severely stricken with paralysis and spent many months in a wheel chair. His health was so poor that he wasn't told in Dec 1924 that his eldest son, William Lewis, and two of his daughters were burned to death. Six months later, he, too, died.

(On the move to Dingle, the story is told, Mattie held her 2 1/2 month old son, Riley, on her lap and keeping an eye on her other three sons, drove the team drawing the black top buggy over 1,000 miles.) In his later years, Francis Marion suffered a neck injury in an auto accident, his eyesight failed and his legs required the use of a cane, but he was well cared for by his family until his death at age 76.

5702. JESSE WARNER HOOPES, son of Jonathan, Jr. and Mary Ann (Baldwin) Hoopes, was born 9 Apr 1869 at Montpelier, ID and died 20 Feb 1953 at Brigham City, UT where he is buried with his wife. He married on 19 Jun 1901 in the Salt Lake City Temple, MATILDA EASTMAN, daughter of William John and Ann (Harris) Eastman, born 17 Nov 1873 in Melincrythan, Glamorganshire, South Wales and died 22 Oct 1953 in Brigham City, UT.

Jesse Warner Hoopes lived in Montpelier, ID until he was four at which time the family moved to Provo, UT where they stayed two years. They then moved to a cattle ranch in Henry's Fork, WY (located east of Evanston) where they lived until he was 12. Eventually, the ranch was sold and the family and the cattle moved to St. David, AZ where Jesse lived until he was 20.

In the fall of 1889, he enrolled at the U. of UT in Salt Lake City and in 1893 he graduated in the Normal Course, receiving a teaching certificate. He attended the U. of UT for two more years and received his B. S. degree in 1895. While doing post graduate work there, Jesse suffered a ruptured appendix and although it was removed after a four-hour operation, he was not expected to live because gangrene had set in. According to Jesse's grandson, David C. Hoopes, Jesse was miraculously healed after being in a coma for five days because he received a blessing from Dr. James E. Talmage who was then president of the U. of UT.

From 1896-1899 Jesse taught in the Salt Lake Co. public schools and the LDS College. In 1899 he was hired as principal and teacher at Brigham City High School where he remained until 1903 when he was called as an LDS missionary in Great Britain. He served in this capacity from 1904-1906 and for most of this period he served as President of the London Conference while Heber J. Grant was President of the European Mission. He encountered mob violence in London and although his life was threatened, he was never injured.

In 1906, Jesse returned to high school teaching in Brigham City until 1911, when he became manager of Stohl Furniture Co. In 1918, he opened a store which sold pianos and record players while also serving as a mortician. He was a mortician for 15 years and for 16 years he served as a board member and president for eight years of the UT Poultry Producer's Cooperative Assn. In 1933 he became probation officer of Box Elder Co. and in that position he served for more than 16 years, retiring in 1949.

Matilda (May) Eastman, Jesse's wife, joined the LDS Church in South Wales in 1882 and in 1886, at the age of 13, she emigrated to UT with a returning missionary, Elder Ricy Jones. She lived with his parents in Brigham City for a time. Eventually, her parents and other brothers and sisters, except her brother, Joseph, came to UT. While her parents settled in Ogden, the family never lived together in America. May, as she was known, eventually found a home with the Weiderberg family in Brigham City where she worked for her room and board as a maid and housekeeper. She received limited schooling but was eventually trained in shorthand. She became a very proficient and qualified stenographer and federal court reporter. She met her husband, Jesse, at the Weiderberg home.

May had a lovely soprano singing voice and often sang at public and church functions. At the dedication of the Box Elder Stake Tabernacle she was soloist. For more than 50 years she was a church chorister and women's organization choir director. She was known for her outstanding cooking, and because of her own immigrant experience, she befriended and helped many other immigrant children from Denmark and other European countries by teaching them English and homemaking skills.

Their marriage, which took place at Central Presbyterian Church in Wilmington at six o'clock in the evening was a large and important social affair, according to an account in a Wilmington newspaper. The couple was attended by five ushers and ten bridesmaids, two of whom were nieces of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Caldwell, D. D. of West Chester assisted by the Rev. Marcus A. Brownson, pastor in charge of Central Church. More than 500 guests were present. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Dr. Frantz and a number of prominent guests attended.

Since your writer is unable to understand exactly who is meant by "the party" in the next paragraph from the wedding account, it is printed here for your own interpretation:

"The private parlor car, Java, was placed at the disposal of the party through the courtesy of James R. Wood of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It was elaborately trimmed with flowers. The party started North in the Java car last evening....."

According to an account in STATE OF DELAWARE, page 239, Edgar M. Hoopes....."at an early age took to the newspaper business as a duck takes to water. His first effort in this direction was as local correspondent for the Cleveland, OH LEADER, the Canton, OH REPOSITORY and the Alliance, OH REVIEW. Having a natural liking for the business, he decided to adopt it as a profession, and was next employed in the business office of the Chicago, IL TIMES.

"It was while he was thus engaged that he was offered and accepted the position of advertising manager of the Wilmington, DE, MORNING NEWS, which position he held at the time the News Publishing Co. bought out the paper, and improved it greatly in many ways. Mr. Hoopes became a stockholder in the paper at the earnest request of Mr. Isaac Henderson, the former manager and part owner of the New York EVENING POST, and the principal owner, with Mr. Sperry of the MORNING NEWS, and was soon made the business manager of the paper, which position he holds today. Under Mr. Hoopes's management the paper has become a good paying property and the leading Republican newspaper of the state. An extended acquaintance with the general advertisers of the East has made him quite a power in this direction and his laurels have been won by fair dealing and strict attention to every detail of his extended business affairs. His success is wholly due to this fact, as well as to his push and energy.

"In the summer of 1887, Mr. Hoopes was made business manager of the Philadelphia NEWS as well, which position he filled creditably for nearly two years, dividing his time between that paper and his own. He left the NEWS to assume a position as assistant advertising manager of the Philadelphia PRESS, where he remained for some two years, when he resigned, in order that he might more effectually push the interests of his own paper, and also the advertising interests of a list of leading papers in the South, to which he was then sending a great deal of Northern business. During the time he was employed on the PRESS he also looked after the interests of his own paper successfully.

"Mr. Hoopes is now devoting his whole time to his Wilmington paper, and the list of papers for which he works up special business. This list embraces some of the best and leading papers of the country."

THE HOOPES FAMILY RECORD

Amy, a former teacher of Harmony Hill (and at the High St. Public School and in Atlantic City), took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Finney, of Ivyland, Amy's sister and brother-in-law.

"The Friends ceremony was used and was followed with a prayer by Rev. T.J. Elms of the Presbyterian Church of Newtown, PA....."

"The ceremony took place on the porch at the front of the house, a portion of which had been decorated with festoons of honeysuckle and small red roses, making an attractive setting for the wedding party....."

Isaac and Amy moved from PA to WA where for many year he was associated with the Puget Sound Navy Yard. Our "archives" contain a copy of the program for his retirement party which we would like to quote in its entirety:

"FAREWELL DINNER HONORING ISAAC PENNOCK HOOPES Upon Termination of 31 Years' Service in Puget Sound Navy Yard, SPONSORED BY PRODUCTION AND PLANNING DIVISION EMPLOYEES, Odd Fellows' Hall, Charleston, Monday, 16 March 1942, 6:30 P.M.

"BIOGRAPHY: 'What a pretty baby, such lovely blond curls and so-o-o-o full of pep'. Thus was Isaac Pennock Hoopes greeted upon his entrance into the world in 1875 at Pottstown, PA. Now just to prove that Isaac was up-and-coming even during infancy—at the age of one year he attended the Philadelphia Centennial (1876). His school days were spent in PA in the town of West Chester. It was there that he met a very charming young school teacher who, in 1905, became his bride. In this same year Isaac and Amy Hoopes decided to see a little bit of the country and consequently set forth to see the fair in Portland, OR. They liked the country so well that they remained. However, in 1911, they discovered a little place, away out in the sticks, called Manette, WA. They promptly settled in that cozy little village and Isaac at that time began his career in the Puget Sound Navy Yard. 'Twas a long hard trip to make over the rough and rocky roads of Manette (yes, even then), but Isaac braved all this and began his daily labors as a stenographer. Today he has advanced until the old-timers say, 'Isaac Hoopes is the best, most cheerful and capable Supervisory Clerk that ever worked in the Production Division of the Puget Sound Navy Yard.' No doubt you have all heard the story about how Isaac married his three daughters to electricians because he was such as 'live wire' himself and wanted to keep the family tradition 'alive.' However, I dare say the true story told a few days ago by a young clerk in our midst is the best yet. It seems that not so many years ago this young clerk was ascending the stairs when someone sped by taking the stairs four (4!!!) steps at a time. Well, Isaac disappeared up the stairs and since that day the young clerk has been endeavoring to take those same stairs four at a time but to no avail."

At the time of his death, The Bremerton, WA SUN published this account of Isaac's death: "Isaac P. Hoopes found his greatest enjoyment in life in church work with Manette Community Church, where he was superintendent of the Sunday School for about 25 years. Elected a life-time deacon in the church, he also served as president of the Kitsap Co. Sunday School Assn. for a number of years. Many Bremerton ex-servicemen have fond remembrances of Mr. Hoopes' project of letter-writing during WW II. He had a list of 165 boys, many from his church, that he wrote regularly. He was visited by many of the men up until his death. He was able to devote full time to writing these letters because he retired from PSNS in 1942 as a supervisory clerk after 31 years' employment.

"Mr. Hoopes, who lived at 2120 Wyoming St. was also a member of Steadfast Lodge, F. & A.M., a charter member of Philathea Chapter OES and formerly belonged to the East Bremerton Improvement Club...."

Amy's obituary mentions the fact that she was an alumna of "what is now State Teacher's College."

Since Joseph's obituary contained so much interesting information, we are quoting it here:

"At West Chester Friday afternoon, funeral services were held for Joseph W. Hoopes, or many years a well-known farmer and dealer in southern Chester County. Born at Newtown Square, Mr. Hoopes settled in this vicinity in early life where he married Miss Sarah Miller, of Chatham, farming in this vicinity for a number of years. Over 40 years ago he conducted a restaurant in West Grove where the American Store now stands. A few years later he conducted a flourishing livery business in Avondale. Elsewhere in this paper is shown where he purchased a farm near that town exactly 25 years ago. Farms and restaurants were his specialty, and when he farmed he dealt extensively in horses and cows, conducting many public sales. He spent a few years in Atlantic City where he also prospered, but chose to return to his favorite county. For the last 15 years he has lived in West Chester and vicinity, where he continued activity until two years ago. When he purchased a farm or a business, his general practice was to conduct it himself and develop it until sought by an eager buyer. He dealt fairly and held the respect of the patrons — and always prospered.

"For 42 years he was a subscriber of the INDEPENDENT, which followed him to all his many locations, though in many of the changes his postoffice remained the same.

"With the death of his life's partner in August, Mr. Hoopes was revealed to 6232. MARION VIRGINIA "MURIEL" HOOPES, daughter of William Webster and Mary G. (Pollard) Hoopes, was born 26 Dec 1898 in Philadelphia, PA. In Apr 1982 she lived at Lane 115 Tai an Lee, House 8-2, Floor Apt. 3, Shanghai, PRC. She married 7 Jun 1919 in New York, NY, in the Little Church Around the Corner, YU CHING TU, born 29 Sep 1885 in Hanyang, Hubei Province and died 11 Sep 1975 in Shanghai, PRC.

Orphaned at the age of 6 1/2, Muriel's grade school teacher, Miss Nina McCorkle of the Fernwood, PA school, arranged for her to live with her childless sister, Anna, who was married to Harry Lyster and then lived in Lansdowne, PA, a suburb of Philadelphia. They moved to Philadelphia when she was 9.

After her marriage, Muriel went to China with her husband. She arrived in Nanking in 1920 where her husband was a teacher of engineering and she worked as a secretary to the American Consul, John K. Davis. She later taught at Ginling Girl's College which she left in 1927 to join the staff of U. of Shanghai where she lived on campus for many happy years.

In a recent letter from Muriel she says: "I'm 83 now but not as 'chipper' as before and my memory is slipping gradually. I teach three times a week—Oral English. The government sends Medical College and Public Health students to my house to save my energy. Thoughtful? My hearing is good, my eyesight passable. Shanghai's weather is not kind to my old bones—have rheumatism in knees and back. Otherwise, life is quite pleasant here with friends and students constant companions."

In May 1981, Muriel visited the USA where she appeared on the Merv Griffin Show and there was some talk about her being a guest at the Philadelphia Tricentennial Celebration. Two long, interesting newspaper accounts appeared here in the summer and fall of 1980 from which we'd like to excerpt here.

From the Washington POST article by Jay Mathews: "50 Years of Cultural Revolutions: An American Riding the Tides in China:

EIGHTHGENERATION

"Muriel Hoopes, 81, has seen much during her half century in China—war, revolution, her small son's death—but what remains in her mind is the station wagon that took her and her husband off to jail on July 8, 1968.

"..... She was freed after nine months, but her husband remained in confinement until 1972, and was severely beaten at least once. He had been a physicist, president of a prominent Shanghai college, national general secretary of the YM-CA and a member of a communist-organized united front group. He had the bad luck to have a University of Chicago doctorate when a wave of intense xenophobia swept China. It apparently ended his hopes for a new and progressive China, the hopes that had led him to stay when the Communists took over.

"Hoopes' husband, Tu Yuquing, died in 1975, refusing ever to tell his family much of what he suffered or what he felt after his four and one-half year confinement. But his memory, both the pride and the bitterness, remains with his four children—one engineer and three doctors—and with his peppery wife, the young American woman he met on the New York subway in 1919.

".....The love story of Tu Yuquing and Muriel Hoopes, married nearly 61 years ago after a whirlwind two-month courtship, follows all the great surges and collapses of 20th century China—the fall of the Ching Dynasty, the rise of the Nationalist Party, the passion for Western learning, the Japanese invasion, the communist liberation, the chaotic Cultural Revolution and the shift back to more humane politics and renewed Western contact before and after the death of Chairman Mao Tsetung.

"Like many other victims of the Cultural Revolution, Tu was rehabilitated posthumously, at a special ceremony two months ago, a gesture his widow and children appreciated. The government also moved his ashes to a martyrs' cemetery.

".....Tu was a graduate student, a whiz kid who had won one of the Boxer Rebellion indemnity scholarships. In 1919 he found himself jammed up against a 20-year old railroad office secretary on an uptown Manhattan subway. A conversation began and Hoopes asked, 'Are you a Japanese?'

" 'Oh, no!' Tu said indignantly, for it was a time when patriotic Chinese recoiled at the demands being made on the weak Peking government by the Japanese. 'I'm Chinese,' he said. 'Are you American-born?'

" 'Yes, my family goes back to 1683'," Hoopes said.

" 'He was getting off at 110th St. and I was living at 202nd St.,' she reminisced, 'but he said, 'How about getting off and we can talk a bit.' So I did.'

"They met in April and were married June 7, 1919 just around the corner from the McAlpin Hotel.

"Hoopes, from Lansdowne, PA had been orphaned at six and her adoptive parents were shocked when she told them about Tu.

" 'How could you marry a Chinese and lose your citizenship?' her father asked. Under one of the anti-Asian immigration laws of that day, Americans renounced their rights automatically upon marrying a Chinese or Japanese.

"She traveled back with Tu as far as Tokyo, then got a secretarial job while he went to Nanking to break the news to his parents.

".....Their first daughter, Anna, now a government physician working temporarily in England on a United Nations project, was born in 1924. A son was born, but he died after they moved to Shanghai during the Japanese occupation. Mary, Harry and Nina, all with Chinese names also, followed.

"Tu became president of St. John's University in Shanghai as student riots were tearing the town apart before the communist victory. Just before the fall, he became national general secretary of the YMCA, but when he returned from consultations in the United States, he stopped in Hong Kong to consider what to do about returning to a now communist China.

"He sent a message to his wife through a friend returning to Shanghai.....She telegraphed back, 'You have studied for China, you must come back and give it to China.'

"Tu assumed a role as a leading 'democratic personage,' part of the communist effort to rally support from sympathetic intellectuals and non-Communists. The family was given relatively spacious quarters and few people took note of Hoopes. 'They thought I was Russian,' she said.

"Anna and her husband, both medical students, left for study in the United States just before the communist victory. They became doctors and worked in Elizabeth, NJ and had four children. Tu and Hoopes encouraged them to return to China.....They returned in 1957 to suffer along with Anna's parents the next two decades. Now Anna's husband is head of surgery at Shanghai's Zhongshan Hospital.

"When Anna's children returned with her, 'They could fight and holler and say anything in English, then came the Cultural Revolution and Mao didn't seem to be in control. Mrs. Mao seemed in control. All the kids at school seemed to turn against them.... Finally we were told it was better they didn't speak English, and they forgot it, though I think it sticks in the throat, because the teacher says they pronounce it well now that they're trying to learn it again.' "

The Los Angeles TIMES carried a similar story in its 10 Aug 1980 edition under the by-line of Linda Mathews We would like to quote a few paragraphs from this article also:

"SHANGHAI—During her 50 years in China, Muriel Hoopes has found adventures galore—wars, revolution, even a stint as a prisoner of the Red Guards—but she has lost something she would like to regain: her American citizenship.

"Under the Oriental exclusion acts then in force, Hoopes, born a Philadelphia Quaker, was automatically stripped of her citizenship when she married a young Chinese scientist studying in the United States and returned with him to China in 1920.

"The U. S. Laws have since been repudiated and repealed, but the difficulty of documenting her citizenship claim and her fears about losing her only means of support, a $60-a-month pension from the Chinese government, still prevent Hoopes, now 81, from obtaining a U. S. passport."

Red tape notwithstanding, as we said before, Muriel Hoopes was in the United States in 1981 as were at least two of her children.

"Robert Bowie, governor of MD in the early 1800's, firmly established the prominence that was to surround the name Bowie in the state's politics for most of the last two centuries. His namesake, Robert Bowie, 41 and a lifelong resident of University Park, may cause that name to become more widely known in the field of poetry in his home state and others.

"The living Bowie has had more than 100 of his poems published in more than 75 periodicals and literary magazines, including Harper's, the New York TIMES and The Christian Science Monitor.

"....His first book of poetry, 'The Damning Owl Tree,' was selected by a publisher as the most creative manuscript out of hundreds of collections of poetry submitted. 'The publisher folded when the book was at press,' Bowie agonizes. The book-to-be now sits on a bookshelf in his home.

"Though Bowie admires some current poets, he feels that 'roughly 90 percent of what poetry is being published is a poor attempt at creativity. There is a lack of musicality, a void of quality.'

"Though he says he would not want to write poetry on a full-time basis, Bowie finds that 'creating poetry is an exciting, rewarding experience—but very hard work. Finding the just-right word or word phrasing is brain-wracking. Don't settle for the easy way out,' I tell myself. 'I've spent two years on a title alone.'

"....Bowie's style has undergone a change from images of loneliness and desolation with a recurring usage of such words as bones, blood and stone to spiritually uplifting observations of nature. He continues to yield to an ever-present compulsion to observe mankind.

" 'Good poetry is not just prettied words and phrasings. It conveys ideas, enlightens, consoles and motivates,' he contends. 'A good poet reminds us of our ethics or our lack of them.' "

(She divorced her first husband in 1960.)

John Latimer Hoopes served in the U. S. Army from 1943-1945. He served in England, France, Belgium and Germany and later passed through the Panama Canal Zone, landed on Okinawa and went on to Korea in Oct 1945. He returned to the States in Nov 1945 on the U.S.S. General Gordon which docked in Tacoma, WA. His train trip home was delayed because of an outbreak of smallpox aboard the ship which necessitated the vaccination of all men aboard. John Latimer Hoopes was awarded the Bronze Medal for service rendered above and beyond the call of regular duty in the European Theatre.

An interesting article by Rich Nichols, Staff Writer, appeared in the Philadelphia INQUIRER on 19 Jan 1979 which we would like to quote here. Headlines read: "Boon for Thieves—Mingo Express Rides No More."

"April 7, 1887, was a field day for crime in Montgomery County. Abraham Johnson's watch was lifted. George Guilbert's harness walked off and 35 chickens and several turkeys vanished from the Harman Wienback spread near Collegeville.

"Sure, there was a law, but in the countryside this was a job for the Mingo Express Horse Co. for the Recovery of Stolen Horses and Other Property and the Detection of Thieves.

"The company's vigilantes—more formally referred to as 'the pursuit committee'—soon turned up the watch and chickens. They never did find the harness.

"Those days of night-riding righteousness are gone, but they are not forgotten by the company which celebrated its 153d year at a banquet in the historic Perkiomen Bridge Hotel last weekend.

" 'It's purely a social affair now,' said retired accounting clerk J. Latimer Hoopes, who keeps the company's official scrapbook and certificate in his Collegeville home.

"Horse companies, basically mutual aid and insurance companies for Pennsylvania and New Jersey farmers, proliferated in the early 19th century, when thieves considered spacious farms to be happy rustling grounds.

"Like the other companies, Mingo charged annual dues that went into a compensation fund for theft victims whose watches or sheep or horses were not recovered.

EIGHTH GENERATION

"But unlike other still-existing (but also purely social) companies, the tiny Mingo group continues to insist that a person have an original membership certificate to belong. They are handed down within families and, occasionally, purchased from estates or folks moving away.

" 'We're very exclusive,' retired newspaper publisher Paul Levengood said, smiling a bit.

"Mingo has become so exclusive, in fact, that it is somewhat worried about its own future. Only 32 members showed up to dine on Chicken Kiev last week, half of them spouses.

"In the 1880's, there were a proud 130 members, divided into six hard-charging committees, ready to ride within two hours after a theft was reported. They would go 30 miles in any direction before even thinking about giving up."

At last report, John Latimer Hoopes was living at 24 E. Third Ave., Trappe-Collegeville, PA 19426. He had no children.

Since we do not have very much biographical information on this family, we are drawing on an article which appeared in the West Chester-Paoli newspaper for Monday, 23 Feb 1970 for background details. The headlines read: Fire Destroys barn south of West Grove: "A barn was completely destroyed on the property of Edward Hoopes, Sunnyside and Kelton roads, south of West Grove this morning....."

".....Hoopes was not at home when the fire started at 8:45 a.m. and his 17-year old son, James, turned in the alarm. Then James and his sister, Mrs. A. T. Bagwell, moved out the dairy herd of 135. Only one calf was lost. Mrs. Bagwell and her husband had arrived Sunday from Atlanta, GA to make their home in the area.

"The barn was engulfed in flames when the West Grove firemen arrived, but several pieces of machinery were removed with only two pieces lost. A large quantity of hay and straw kept feeding the blaze and the high wind sent embers afar to set fire to the grass. When the barn was leveled, a bulldozer was brought in to move the hay and straw.

"According to one volunteer, the adjoining milking parlor was saved, but flames leaped a 25-foot driveway and a hay-filled horse stable and a pole barn were also damaged extensively. Since the milking parlor could not be used, the cows were taken to a neighboring farm...."

EIGHTH GENERATION

Fred Hoopes, 67, known locally as the melon millionaire, is the third generation Hoopes growing melons and his son, John, 36, makes a fourth. Hoopes Farms are the island's biggest individual growers with 30 acres in muskmelons alone."

The caption under a picture of Fred and John states: "William Hoopes began growing melons on Muscatine Island about 1860. His grandson and great grandson, Fred Hoopes, 67, and John Hoopes, 36, are still at it on the sandy soil bordering the Mississippi River just south of Muscatine." The article also states that although the gross return from an acre of muskmelon is three to four times greater than that of an acre of corn, production costs are high. Muskmelon seeds are so costly ($75 a pound) that Hoopes plants them in greenhouse pots to assure 90 percent germination before setting the plants in the ground. Cold weather can cut a crop by one-third.

THE HOOPES FAMILY RECORD

17 Aug 1979 gives such a good overview of Clem's accomplishments that we quote it almost in its entirety here:

"Horseman and Novelist Clement Hoopes Dies" "Upland, PA—Clement R. Hoopes, 72, novelist, horseman and former U.S. State Dept, administrator died Tuesday in Crozier-Chester Medical Center here after an illness of several months.

"Mr. Hoopes, who lived in Delray Beach, FL, was the author of three novels, two of them set in Lancaster and Chester counties. He formerly had lived in Chadds Ford and West Grove, where he wrote and raised cattle.

"Mr. Hoopes, who was often seen at coaching events, handled a team-of-four with the ease of an Edwardian gentleman, always properly attired in coachman's coat, pearl gray top hat, driving gloves and leather apron. All, he insisted, were necessary protection from the hazards of horse and weather.

"A director of the Devon Horse Show, he competed there regularly and participated in other shows on the Eastern Seaboard. Although he had a stroke several years ago, until recently he continued to appear with the coaches and carriages at the annual PA Hunt Club.

"Mr. Hoopes, who held various posts in the federal government before retiring in 1958 as director of trade fairs, served as an aide to the Commandant of the Third Naval District in New York City during WW II. After the war, he spent several years with the Dept, of State in Dublin, Ireland, where he helped administer the Marshall Plan.

"Mr. Hoopes was the founder of the National Wax Museum in Washington, DC, and served on its board. He was a past president of the Chester Co. Historical Society, a past commissioner of the Brandywine Battlefield, board member of the U. of PA School of Veterinary Medicine Research Center at New Bolton, PA and a patron of the Brandywine River Museum.

"His first two novels were Angry Dust, set in Chester Co. but with a Polish diplomat and a Scottish laird as major characters and A Frolic of His Own, the story of a young Lancaster County man who revolts against his Amish heritage and enters Republican politics.

"His third book. The Courier, a suspense and espionage tale, was published in 1973.

"He was a member of the Wilmington Club, the Princeton Club of NY, the Gulf Stream Bath and Tennis Club, St. Andrew's Society and the American Society of Colonial Wars.

"He lived in Wilmington as a youth and attended Friends School. He was a graduate of the Hill School, Pottstown, PA and Princeton U.....

".....Burial will be in the churchyard of Lower Brandywine Presbyterian Church, Centreville, DE....."

The Philadelphia ENQUIRER has this to say about Marcia (Meigs) Hoopes in her obituary on 28 Feb 1973:

"Mrs. Clement R. Hoopes, 2d, widely known in East Coast social circles died

EIGHTH GENERATION

Tuesday at Chester Co. Hospital following a stroke. She was 62 and lived at "Windfall Farm", West Grove, Chester Co.

"Mrs. Hoopes, the former Marcia Meigs, was the daughter of the late Dwight and Ruth Averell Meigs, former headmaster of the Hill School in Pottstown. The school was founded by her great-grandfather, Matthew Meigs.

"She attended the Brearley School in NY and was a 1931 graduate of Sarah Lawrence College. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Hoopes in 1936, she was a social news writer for the old New York HERALD TRIBUNE and later editor of Arts and Decorating Magazine.....

"..... She was a member of the Cosmopolitan Club in NY and the Wilmington Garden Club....."

Services were held at the Episcopal Church of the Advent in Kennett Square and burial was private.

There was no issue to this second marriage.

Since Harold Dexter Hoopes is now dead (although we do not have his death date recorded), we would like to include here the text of a letter he wrote to your reporter on 21 May 1971. It gives an excellent idea of his splendid sense of humor. Harold was an artist and his stationery contained a logo of his signature.

"Thank you so much for adding your two cents worth, which amount I joyfully refund for the privilege of making your charming acquaintance. [Two pennies were taped to the letter here.]

"If I am gratefully thankful to God Almighty for having given up a rib, it is because He utilized it to create Woman. Woman is the best idea He ever had and I would surrender the entire pulmonary cage if He had others as inspired!.. a presumptuous challenge from a mortal but thus it stands. In short, thank God for the female.

"Now that I approach age 71, forgiveness is something I expect for having spoken out of turn. Bad manners are peculiar to the geriatric and I am no exception.

".... It was never my displeasure to meet my grandfather, Ira C. Hoopes. From what I gather he must have been an old stinker. That, at least, was my father's impression.

"Yes, I was born in Chicago and graduated from Nicholas Senn High School in Absentia. I happened to be at war at the time of graduation. My name is inscribed on a tablet in the main corridor.

".....May I suggest that when a volume of the ancestry is published it be titled, 'WHO'S HQOPS-HOOPES'.

".....The hour is now 4:40 a.m. but I feel impelled to append a note for the purpose of answering a question you posed concerning the family's involvement in so many wars.

"I cannot answer for my grandfather save that during his time he did what young men were supposed to do, namely, preserve the union. At any rate, he did so.

THE HOOPES FAMILY RECORD

"For my father: He joined the IL National Guard (7th Regt.) Co. M. He was listed as a musician which meant he was a bugler. His company never arrived in Cuba but were discharged in VA. He made his own way home and never fired a gun.

"I enlisted as a Red Cross Ambulance Driver and served overseas for 21 months. I lived in mud and French filth most of the time. I sustained two non-combat related injuries for one of which I am still obliged to limp about on a walking stick.

"Brother Bob had no choice in the matter. Had he not volunteered he would have been drafted. He became a Marine Corps Pilot and flew long hops to distant places in the Orient. He was discharged as a Capt. of the Marines.

"None of us were Quakers. I am an Episcopalian in good standing. Father had no formal church affiliations nor does my brother, Robert, as far as I know.

"We have always been a peaceful people, none of us shouldering arms."

[Much of the last was written to an observation your reporter made that for a family which originated as Quaker, the men in his family had served in the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and World Wars I and II]

She, too, is buried in LaRue Cemetery.

According to his daughter, Harry Alien Hoopes was an individual of strong character who made a strong, positive impact on the community of LaRue, OH.

"He graduated from Marysville High School under the close eye of his aunt, Rachel Hoopes, who was an educational administrator. His family did not have the money to send him to college so Harry saved his college money by working, only to have the bank "go under". Again he saved and this time he got to OH State U. In 1914, he received a doctorate in Veterinary Medicine and although he was invited to accept a position on the teaching faculty of his college, he returned to LaRue and set up practice. Here he met and married his wife, then enlisted in the Army for WW I. He had just received his captaincy papers (but they were not activated) when he was discharged.

"Harry Alien Hoopes attended every American Legion Convention, except for the one in Paris, France until he was in his mid-seventies and he served one year as National Historian for the 40 & 8. He was past State Commander of the American Legion for the State of OH and helped to organize the Veterinary Society in Northern OH and served as its State President."

His daughter, Betty, goes on to say, "my life was filled with instances where strangers approached me and asked, 'Are you Dr. Hoopes' daughter? Say, I want to tell you about the time your father and I.....' Something great was sure to follow and almost always, it was humorous. My father loved people and there was always a good time around him.

EIGHTH GENERATION

"Strange as it may seem, he started taking me with him on his veterinary calls when I was eight months old...an old basket, a bottle and diapers. I was driving for him by the time I was 10 years of age and helped in any way I could until I was 18 and left for college.

"My father's list of friends stretched from paupers to millionaires all of whom he found fascinating and interesting and worthwhile humans. I think I count this as the most important legacy I received from my father. Where or from whom my father received it, I don't know.....what a fantastic genetic stamp."

He was manager of a general store in Halsey, NE, then in Thedford, NE. Early in 1931, Mr. Cole died of a stroke and alcoholism, leaving his wife and children almost penniless. A number of years ago when your reporter was still actively researching the RECORD, she noted an advertisement in the deep South for anyone interested in Robert Vernor Hoopes (among other people) of the Class of 1910 of Sumner, IL High School. Naturally, we immediately wrote and requested the information which netted us two pictures and two writeups on this gentleman.

One writeup had this to say: "On Monday evening, the final close of the exercises was the 21st Annual Commencement, when 11 graduates delivered their orations and received their diplomas from the Sumner High School. Robert Vernor Hoopes as salutatorian of the class spoke on the subject now so much in the minds of the people 'Comets and their Courses', saying in part that the Ancients regarded the comet as something of a superstitious or supernatural nature and in the time of the Crusades they were held in awe. Regarding the Halley Comet now present which can be seen at early dawn in the eastern sky, it will be visible in the western sky May 19 just after sunset."

Robert Vernor Hoopes graduated from Culver Military Academy and Rensselaer Polytechnic. His degree was in electrical engineering but after a brief assignment with the telephone company, he joined Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co. in Chicago. He was president of Woods Bros. Construction Co. of Omaha for a brief time, then founded his own construction company. His final employment was for the government... this was mainly of an inspection nature. He had few hobbies, reading, a little golf, fishing and gardening. His wife was the daughter of a fireman (horsedrawn) era. She was a graduate nurse. She took voice lessons but only for her own pleasure. Robert took violin lessons. In 1981 Mary Jane Hoopes, Robert's wife was still living in a nursing home in MI.

Both are buried in Tetonia, ID.

William Lewis Hoopes was born in a two-room log house. He married his grade-school sweetheart in the Logan LDS Temple. Lew and Millie homesteaded a dry farm near Weston at Cedarville. In 1898, Lew was called to fill a mission in the Southern States, leaving his wife and two babies. Having contracted malaria, he was honorably discharged after eighteen months' service and suffered attacks for several years after his return.

Although they bought more land on Weston Creek, Lew and Millie found it hard to provide for their five children, so in 1908 they moved to a 160 acre farm in Teton Valley, ID. Here Lew raised hay and a little grain but the summer was short so he could usually raise only one hay crop. Winters were hard with 4-5 feet of snow on the ground and temperatures ranging 30-40 degrees below zero.

Celebrations were few and far between in this community so in the summer of 1915, the church and all the others nearby planned a celebration. For two days Millie baked pies and cakes, made candy and froze ice cream. When the day arrived for the celebration it poured down rain and there was no celebration. Millie decided to take the "goodies" to town to try to sell them. She was so successful, she decided to go into business. Starting in a one-room building, she expanded gradually into a real confectionary and after a year, Lew left the farm and carried mail.

On 14 Dec 1924, the confectionary received a large shipment of Christmas tree decorations and candy for the holidays which were unwrapped and displayed in the store combined with their home. During the night, some of the papers near the heating stove apparently caught fire. Wakened by the smoke, Lew told Millie to take the baby, Alice, out of the window while he woke the other girls. Unfortunately, Lew, Laura and Delia were overcome by smoke and all perished on 15 Dec 1924 as the shop and house burned to the ground. All were buried on 20 Dec 1924 when the thermometer read 50 degrees below zero.

Both are buried there.

Lorenzo and Emily lived in the Weston community until 1916 when they moved to Rexburg, ID where Emily's brothers, Wylie, George and John lived. Here Lorenzo increased his holdings to more than 1,000 acres of grain and grazing land. They sold their large home there in 1925 and moved to Driggs where Lorenzo bought grain for an elevator. The cold in Driggs was too much to endure so the family moved back to Rexburg in 1927. There, Lorenzo bought a flour mill and entered politics, serving seven years as a State Representative. During the legislature terms their life in Boise was a very social one.

In 1940, when all their children were married, Lorenzo and Emily began spending winters in Los Angeles where most of their children had located. Lorenzo developed a heart condition and was trying to dispose of his home and property to retire in Los Angeles but while enroute to CA he became critically ill at the home of his daughter in Bountiful, UT, was taken to the hospital where he succumbed from a coronary occlusion.

8258. GEORGE ALBERT HOOPES, son of Daniel Lewis and Catherine Heaver (Clarke) Hoopes, was born 14 Jan 1886 in Weston, ID and died 2 Jul 1949 in Idaho Falls, ID. He married 18 Jun 1914 in Salt Lake City, UT, EDNA BAKER, daughter of Albert Mowry and Edna Jane (Coon) Baker, born 2 Jul 1888 in Mendon, UT and died 27 Sep 1966 in Provo, UT. As a child George lived on a farm. The children would ride the horses to school and then turn them loose to return home for farm work and walk home.

At the age of eight, George and some friends visited some sheepherders in the hills to get lambs for pets. They were told they could have lambs if they rounded up some horses. During the round-up, George and his horse were jammed against a barbed-wire fence, scraping three huge gashes in George's leg. Someone rode to town for help but the only medical help available was from a dentist who cleaned the wound and stuck it together with adhesive tape. George was scarred for life.

Tragedy struck the family when George's sister was fatally burned playing with firecrackers on 4 Jul 1898 and again the following spring when his mother died in childbirth. The oldest boy at home at 13, George became a man, taking care of the farm and dairy while his father took care of the sheep.

In 1904, George received a call to a missionary course at BYC and in Nov 1905, he left for a mission in Great Britain. After two years on the mission, George returned to Logan where he graduated from BYC in 1910. He served four years as principal of Weston School, then bought an interest in a mercantile store.

After his marriage in 1914, George became a RFD mail carrier for three years and then joined his family in moving to Rexburg, ID in 1917. For eight years he taught school, serving as principal and city superintendent, farming dry land during the summers. In 1925, he began farming full time and in 1928 he built a home in Rexburg.

An active Democrat, George served two terms in the State Senate in 1930 and 1932. In 1935, he was appointed Postmaster of Rexburg, a position he filled for 14 years.

George died just 29 days before the family reunion to celebrate his father's 100th birthday which he had helped to spearhead.

Ben, as he was known all his life, worked at a number of jobs to earn a living for his family. Among these were being deputy sheriff, running a slaughter house, a cigar store, a meat market, sorting potatoes and farming. When his health failed, his doctor ordered him out of doors, so he took his family in a sheep camp wagon and spent the summer hunting, fishing, trading horses and generally enjoying himself. The camp wagon was much like the trailer houses of today although not so elaborate and it was quite a memorable experience for his family. After that summer he hauled fruit in season, timber from the nearby mountains and did anything he could to feed his growing family. One summer he walked from Rupert to Paul, ID, a distance of seven miles each day, shoveled coal from railroad cars and walked home again at night for a dollar a day.

May was a homebody. She raised gardens, grew beautiful flowers and beautiful children according to her granddaughter. Her handiwork was a thing of beauty. She was a very good cook and could make a good meal out of "nothing". She made most of her children's clothing, many of them hand-me-downs, but they were always attractive. She and Ben instilled a love for reading in their children by reading aloud to them in the evenings. After a twenty-year battle against glaucoma, May became totally blind.

After celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary in the new home built for them by their family after their former home was destroyed by fire in 1962, Ben and May moved to the Carson Rest Home. They lived to celebrate 62 years together. When asked what was the first recollection of each other Ben said "her black eyes" and May said "his big nose". At the time of his death Ben had 7 living sons, and 4 daughters as well as 46 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren.
